

Outdoor family scavenger hunt

Wanting to get active as a household but feeling fed up of walking the same routes you've spent the last year following? Our scavenger hunt offers the perfect way to spend time together outdoors while being a little bit mindful of your surroundings, taking the time to stop and notice the world around you.

See how many of the following you can spot during your walk. You don't have to get them all in one day, why not spread them out over the week? Maybe you could take photographs of everything, so you can keep track of what you've seen so far and then enjoy looking back on them.

Please ensure you always adhere to government guidelines for your area while out and about.
